HANOVER, May 7.—Hanover has never seen Gen. Ernesto Gómez before a torchlight parade and demonstration in his honor as Hanover's first citizen, not even as president of Germany.

In houses and offices organized running a gamut from the official monarchist organization to the trade guilds in which he tried to break up the procession before it reached

Hindenburgh's home, but the crowd was so strong and the torches so bright with a crash of the World War, criticians who served with Hindenburgh during the war of years in gymnasiums, con-

certeams, auditoriums, ca-reterias, theaters, May Scouts and the Stalinsburgs have lined up the 22,000 persons who are now here before Gen. Von Hindenburgh.

QUEEN ANNE'S WAR LASTED FOR TWELVE YEARS IN EUROPE AND AMERICA AND AT THE END OF THAT TIME ENGLAND AND FRANCE WERE ONLY TOO GLAD TO MAKE PEACE.—THE TREATY OF Utrecht WAS SIGNED IN 1713 BY WHICH THE FRENCH LOST MUCH TERRITORY IN AMERICA ALTHOUGH THEY STILL HELD NEW FRANCE AND LOUISIANA.

tion. He is also chairman of the national committee on commercial engineering, national councilor of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and a member of the National Economic Trade Council.

Dr. Swiggett is one of the most enthusiastic advocates of Pan-Americanism, and is known throughout Latin America for his cause. He is author of better understanding and closer friendship between the peoples of the Western Hemisphere. He organized the second Pan-American Scientific Congress, the proceedings of which occupied eleven volumes, were published in English, Spanish, Portuguese, and German. He attended the third Pan-American Scientific Congress, recently concluded in Lima, Peru, in a delegation from the United States. His lectures frequently before universities, chambers of commerce and other civic and educational organizations, on topics relating to international foreign commerce and matters in the domain of science and education, and has been invited to lecture once a week before the National University of Mexico during his stay in this country.

RECENT PROJECT

A recent project under Dr. Swiggett's direction in the United States was the original survey and study of all economic resources, with recommendations for a more stable and less expensive and factory production through better co-operation of all industrial and commercial factors such as capital and labor, raw materials, transportation, and in relation to consuming markets, domestic and foreign.

On the basis of these recommendations courses of study beginning as early as the seventh school grade were prepared for introduction in the schools and colleges of the United States.

Dr. Swiggett's major interests lie in the realm of international education and the preparation of young men and women for foreign service both for government agencies and commercially. Due to the efforts of the national council of which he is chairman, foreign service training courses of instruction have been introduced in more than sixty of the leading colleges and universities of the United States, and popular support was obtained for the recent organization of the Foreign Service Corps.

While the number and nature of the prizes to be offered to the winners in the contest have not been announced, it is known they will be considerable. Considerable sums of money will be paid to authors of the six best essays, who also will get a free trip to Los Angeles and return. The money prizes will be offered by El Universal, the trip to the California metropolis by the Los Angeles Times. The winners will spend several days in the City of the Angels and will be feasted and pampered and shown off to their admiring compatriots and Americans. The high spot of their visit will come when they read their prize-winning essays to an audience of thousands.

FINAL CONTROL

While the primary winners stay in Los Angeles, the grand final contest in Mexico City will be scarcely less so. Contestants will be present from all parts of the republic. Prizes will be given in a splendid ceremony on Independence Day, September 16, next, at one of the leading theaters of the city. President Calles, the Minister of Education, and other prominent persons on constitutional government will inspire many young Mexicans with the desire to become statesmen-makers and interpreters of law.

The agreement made with Los Angeles and El Universo, the two largest newspapers of this city is said to afford the first instance in which powerful newspapers of neighboring nations have joined together fraternally in the cause of international understanding and brother development of the younger generation.

AMUNDSEN TO DELAY FLIGHT

Oslo Reports Postponement of Start for PoleCold Hampers Preparations for Arctic DashTwo Ships Hunt Favorable Hop-Off Place

BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS
OSLO (Norway), May 7.—Advices received by the meteorological observatory say that Roald Amundsen has postponed his North Pole flight which had been planned for tomorrow.

BY JAMES R. WHARTON
(By Cable—Exclusive Dispatch)
COPENHAGEN, May 7.—United States, Canada, South America and Japan by North American Northwest Airlines; France by Air France; Italy by Alitalia; Sweden by Scandinavian Airlines; Germany by Lufthansa; Austria by Praga; Portugal by TAP; Spain by Iberia; China by Chinese National Airways; Australia by Qantas; New Zealand by Air New Zealand; Japan by All Nippon; Thailand by Royal Thai; India by Indian; Sri Lanka by Ceylon; Pakistan by PIA; and Australia by Qantas.

KINGS BAY (Spitsbergen), May 4.—Our airplane party, walking around the island, found the ice fields and Farm and Hobby since their departure Tuesday night to find a favorable starting place for the final hop-off to the North Pole. No sooner had the plane left than a howling wind sprang up, bringing bitter cold from the west. Some snow and clouds rolled across the mountain peaks and the temperature fell to 11 degrees above zero, the coldest in many a day.

By noon the wind shifted and cleared the sky to good visibility. The snow stopped, however, and greatly bothered the rear motor of plane No. 25. Base Mechanic Green reported slight carburetor trouble. It is especially difficult to keep the motor from which which forms insulation from any drip water. Despite the bitter cold the pilots and mechanics worked until midnight on the engine of No. 25, which was repaired. The cruel lash of the wind hinders every movement of the body. Dried snow as fine as sand eddies around the machines and underneath a layer of ice makes every footstep precarious.

We are loading the planes and we find it a harder job than packing an umbrella train for long journeys. The maximum lift of each plane is approximately $100 pounds. We must carry in each plane a minimum of 4000 pounds of gasoline and more oil which leaves only 1500 pounds for the men and their necessarily elaborate equipment, food supplies, snowshoes and pneumatic tire preservers, which must go even if other things are left out.

THURSDAY'S HALL-TANKO ADVENTURES

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE:
COLFAX, May 7.—Somewhere between this city and the Nevada border, if they are not already in Nevada, are two young desperadoes believed to be Joe Tanko and Floyd Hall, fugitive murderers from San Quentin State prison. On their trail are the sheriffs of Nevada, Shasta counties, along with Chief of Police Billie Shane of Sacramento, and Chief of Police Kirkley of Reno.

The enigma is to the whereabouts of the two bandits who on Tuesday stole a United States mail stage from its driver near Graniteville, Nevada county, and then, turning it on its tracks, dashed merrily through Nevada City, Gold Valley and toward Laramie, remained unsolved, despite the fact that another automobile was reported today to have been stolen by the fugitives and driven with its owner, an unwilling passenger through Downsville, Silverdale and on toward Loyallton, presumably headed for Reno. Today no report had been received as to the fate of the automobile owner, although there had been reports that Indian trailers employed today by Chief of Police McChane had shot at suspicious cars, while Police Chief, however, later denied that there had been any shooting. He adhered to his theory announced earlier in the day that the bandits had escaped the trap set for them in the vicinity of Camp Bullion, Southern Pacific Railroad station east of here, and had made their way toward the Nevada line.

Mine Inspector Acquitted on Liquor Charge

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH:
PHOENIX, May 7.—A justice court jury this afternoon acquitted State Mine Inspector Tom Foster of a charge of driving while intoxicated. He had been arrested by a deputy sheriff, who had started him back toward the city, after helping to get the car out of a sand pit in which it had been stalled.

The attorney for Foster based his defense on the allegation that any driving done by the officer was done under the officer's direction and responsibility. Foster already had been freed on a Federal charge of transportation and possession of liquor, his companion on the ride accepting full responsibility for the presence of a gallon of whisky found near the car.

PUPILS' FAULTY VISION IS CITED

Word Blindness Described by Physician

Is Accountable for Many School Failures

Peculiar Distortion of Letters Results

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

WASHINGTON.—May 7.—Does your child have trouble with his reading at school? Does he have difficulty in pronouncing words from the printed page that he pronounces correctly in ordinary speech? Perhaps he is afflicted with nervous trouble known as "word blindness." This ailment, which takes many strange forms, was explained to the American Neurological Association today by Dr. Samuel T. Orton of Iowa City, Iowa, who presented the results of a large number of cases which he has investigated.

This form of "word blindness," as explained by Dr. Orton, causes the child to visualize a letter or a word backward. Thus he is unable to recognize letters clearly, particularly a lower case "P" and "Q" or a "D" and a "B." He may confuse a written figure 3 with a script capital "E." An entire word may register backward in his brain and cause him to pronounce "Ton" as if it were "not."

This ailment, if uncorrected, sometimes follows through to manhood and womanhood. Sometimes it is only certain letters or combinations of letters which the patient has trouble. Thus in one case which the lecturer cited, a boy would invariably read the word "twelve" as if it were "twelv." Although he pronounced "twelve" correctly enough in ordinary speech.

GOODS RESULTS HAD
In the cases of those merely afflicted with the "backward" form of word blindness, remarkable results have been obtained, Dr. Orton said, by mirror reading; that is, having the patient read the combination of letters backward by reflecting them in a mirror in which the other letters with which he had no trouble appear all askew. He recounted the case of a 15-year-old boy, who had been compelled to leave school because of this abnormality. The boy failed to pass psychological tests that placed him just beyond the borderline of a moron. In other words, he did not remember well. Dr. Orton was convinced the tests were not conclusive of the boy's intellect.

"He was convinced it was not altogether his inability to visualize correctly," the neurologist said. "He appeared to be extremely bright about mechanical things, especially automobiles, concerning which he possessed considerable knowledge. He could recognize every part of a motor and place it in its proper position. He could even reason out ways of improving a V motor so there would not be more strain on a single bearing than the bearings. He could copy a paragraph correctly and yet be unable to tell you one word that appeared in it."

"At first we thought that these cases were the result of defect in the motor system, but we have reached the conclusion that they are sensory ailments."

DIGS CALLED DANGEROUS
Surgeons attending the meeting of the American Surgical Association were warned that mercurychromate becomes an extremely dangerous drug if used in a remarkable remedy, when it is used by the inexperienced doctor. Dr. Hugh H. Young of Baltimore gave a report of some remarkable cases in which the injection of this drug into the veins produced successful results in septicemia. A report also was read of a number of autopsies performed in the Bellevue morgue in New York on persons to whom mercurychromate had been administered. These victims gave evidence of lesions in the bowels and other signs of mercurial poisoning.

Mercurochrome, it had been found, produces wonderful results in pneumonia cases. Patients who have been at the point of death have been given an injection of the drug as a last resort, and have shown off the illness with a few hours' interval and all chronic venereal cases and various forms of septicemia have responded quickly, but the surgeons differ as to the amount of risk the doctor runs in administering the drug.

NEW MERGER BY ESPEE IN SIGHT

Rock Island Head Says Deal
May be Made SoonRetirement of Krutschmitt to Remove OppositionAdvantages of Uniting Two Systems Pointed Out

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

CHICAGO, May 7.—The long-discussed merger of the Southern Pacific Railway system with the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad may reach the tangible stage after June 1 when Julius Krutschmitt, chairman of the board of directors of the Southern Pacific, retires under the company's pension plan.

So spoke J. E. Gorman, president of the Rock Island, at the annual meeting of the stockholders of his company today. By his own admission, Gorman said that the proposed consolidation had some time ago reached a stopping point as a result of opinions held by Mr. Krutschmitt. The merger, he said, had been favored by advocates of the Interstate Commerce Commission's general program for railroad consolidations.

"I have tried for some time to effect a stronger alliance arrangement with the Southern Pacific and I have hopes that after June 1, when the jurisdiction of the Rock Island on the line is changed, it may be done," President Gorman said. "Should the merger come, the Rock Island would be a great beneficiary."

The Chicago, Rock Island at this time is turning over all its Pacific Coast business to the Southern Pacific because of the logical increase in haulage. He said that in the future the Southern Pacific will give the Rock Island only perishable freight which requires fast service. He said that the Southern Pacific gives him railroads the best rates for fast freight because it can get a longer haul through other connections.

"I have tried to convince the Southern Pacific that by giving faster delivery over our lines and thereby according better service to their customers they would profit in the long run, but they have been slow to accept this viewpoint," he declared. "It has been the main task of such a consolidation and the managements of both systems have contended for some time that it would be logical."

200 3-Tube Radio Sets! A Climax!

Saturday Morning
(Not Today)

3-Tube Amco Radio Sets
Are Leaders at $68.75 ea.

A real "scoop" for radio fans to "top off" a long series of radio promotions!

And get this! Bullock's backs up this convincingly low price with a radio set that merits the attention of the particular "radioist." It is not a sale machine, it is a tested radio set that was made specially for Bullock's. Now, with the arrival of the first shipment, Bullock's initiates a pricing that should bring flocks of new friends to Bullock's Radio Section.

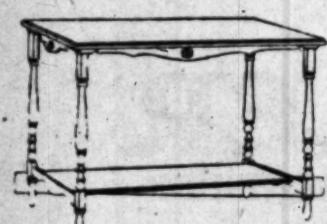

Read the detailed story published (on the right) of each one of the "selling" points: the splendid battery equipment, the 3 tubes (one of them reflexed to increase selectivity), the attractive cabinet with its convenient construction, the last, improved goose neck loud speaker! Every one of these raises the value of the set.

Bullock's exploits this set for those who enjoy a dependable set that gives the local stations yet is capable of giving the right of way to stations located as far away as Denver and Oakland—perhaps farther (experimentation has reached these distance points only up to date).

And, to re-emphasize, remember the purchase plan—$25.00 down and $7.50 the month (small carrying charge additional).

Bullock's Radio Section—Bullock's Sixth Floor

Bullock's Furniture Section co-operates to make splendid solid mahogany tables another big focal point for Saturday shoppers at Bullock's.

Top measures 36 inches long and 15 inches wide. 9 inch shelf below. Table itself stands 30 inches high.

A group of 50 radio tables that should go out rapidly during Bullock's 4 hours of Saturday saving.

Furniture Section, Bullock's Seventh Floor.

$68.75

Included:

1. Tubes —are three in number of the dependable Radiotron make!
2. Batteries —consist of 3 "A" batteries, 4 "B" batteries, and 1 "C" battery. All of standard make.
3. Loud Speaker —The latest type Goose Neck Loud Speaker put out by Brandes! Especial attention to its adjustable feature.
4. Cabinet —made of hardwood in antique mahogany finish. Top swings on piano hinge. Two important points of emphasis: the batteries and tubes are housed within the cabinet, thereby enhancing the appearance of the complete set, not forgetting the increased convenience. Then the bakelite dial panel is slightly inclined, to give greater comfort while "tuning in." The panel engraving in gold finish.

NUEVA YORK, Mayo 7.— El comité que dirige la lucha contra el alcohol en Manhattan redujo hoy las existencias de reserva de sus "bootleggers", y no hubo un solo barco. Hacero contrabandista que se atravesó a Nueva York para establecer y reformar para la más grande escuadra "seca" que ha tenido esta nación. Los leales de la costa, y en un mar algo picado, habían centrado de barquitos de pescuita que se detuvieron en el triste con las utilidades de los licoristas. Entretanto, los tratantes de licor al por mayor, acá en tierra, se encogieron de hombros y dijeron que el estado de cosas no podia durar.

A menos que la amenazante carreta estimule la sed de los neoyorquinos, y los haga consumir cantidad de agua, la escasez, la existencia de reserva puede durar varias semanas, según mantienen los "bootleggers".

Cuatro barcos engresaron hoy la "flota del río" y la cantidad compensó las bajas que se habían en la misma por deserción del algunos buques. Tal reto es el informe del servicio de guardacostas. Efectivamente, uno de cada diez de los viejos barcos que quedaron en el río tiraron de su fondoadero al ver que el bloqueo les impedía hacer entrega de su cargamento para que fuere llevado a tierra, y las patrullas guardarrivales creyeron así informaron—que era inminente la desintegración de la "flota del río". Pero al fondear hoy los recién llegados, la famosa flota permaneció frente tan "mujado" como siempre.

Uno de los cuatro nuevos buques, que han llegado en estas últimas 24 horas, es un gran barco alemán de la matrícula de Hambrúck. Se dice que es inmediatamente en la fila del aguardiente y destaca por su altura y capacidad entre sus colegas más pequeños. Dice que trae uno de los cargamentos más grandes que han llegado de algunos meses a esta parte.

Poeta que Viene Aquí como Biobioterio

La señorita Idalia Purnell, directora de la revista "Palma", único periódico de versos que se publica en Guadalajara, México, va a encarnarse este verano en el parqueo extenso de la Biblioteca Pública de Los Angeles, durante la ausencia de la señora Maryette G. Mackay, jefe de dicho departamento, quien se ha ido de viaje a primores del entanto.

Hace dos años que la señorita Purnell comenzó a publicar "Palma", para llevar al terreno de la experiencia la teoría que expone en su obra poética. La señora Purnell es a su vez que "el poema es lo que vale". Los poemas aparecen anónimamente en la citada publicación: pero en su número siguiente se conocen los autores. El periódico ha llamado la atención del mundo literario, y algunos de los más significados autores de hoy día colaboran en él.

La propia señorita Purnell es poeta; pero no da a sus ninguna de sus composiciones en la revista. Las principales antologías del año próximo pasado, tanto de los Estados Unidos como de Inglaterra, mencionan su nombre. Nació esta escritora en Guadalajara, México, pero recibió aquí buena parte de su primera educación, y tiene diploma de la escuela superior de Bellas Artes de Los Angeles. También se graduó en la Universidad de California.

La señorita Purnell ayudará al éxito de la campaña de biblioteca para reunir $500,000 que se aplicarán a la fundación de escuelas. Este proyecto será la proposición número 2 del escrutinio del 2 de Junio próximo.

AGRICULTURAL OUTLOOK GOOD

Live-Stock Industry Best in Three Years

Crop Damage from Frost Less Than Anticipated

Bank Statements Show Gain in Deposits

The agricultural outlook in the Pacific-Southwest improved materially in April, due to favorable weather conditions, according to the monthly summary of conditions as prepared by the research department of the First National Bank of Los Angeles, the Southern Life and Savings Bank and the First Securities Company.

The future of the live-stock industry appears better than at any time in the past three years.

It is expected, however, that this will result in an immediate expansion in business operations. Statistics, nevertheless, indicate substantial business in the Los Angeles market.

Unusually heavy rainfall in all important growing districts came at a time well suited for farm operations. Temperatures following the rains were beneficial. Additional rainfall in the mountains has assured water for irrigation well into the summer. Crop damage from frost is less than was anticipated.

MARKET FAVORABLE

The citrus-fruit markets are favorable and returns to the market exceed those of last season.

The navel-orange harvest is completed and the Valencia crop will start during May.

A fair crop of canned fruit is anticipated in the districts west of the Tehachapi, and prices are slightly higher than last year.

There is a normal production of all varieties of grapes, and the set of walnuts was very heavy and uniform. Planting of beans is under way.

Grain fields have been revived and output will be more normal. Alfalfa production should not exceed last year, but the cotton crop is estimated at 12 per cent greater.

Statistics which reflect the volume of business indicate sustained activity in the Los Angeles basin.

April exceeded March.

Building permits in Los Angeles during each of the past two months exceeded all months since March of last year. Manufacturing output at a fair level and petroleum production registered slight decline. Business failures were large in number, but normal in aggregate of liabilities. Bank deposits showed a healthy increase and the credit situation was favorable.

RAINS HELP

The entire San Joaquin Valley has a better outlook than for several years and agricultural conditions are exceedingly gratifying.

It is believed that the recent rains that the heavy rains have altered the situation in the coast districts north of Los Angeles and growers are optimistic. Strong citrus prices and the anticipation of a heavy crop in the fall make the situation more favorable in the districts east and southeast of Los Angeles.

The general outlook in the San Fernando Valley is the best in two years and the conditions in the Imperial Valley remain unchanged.

Statements of banks in the Los Angeles basin, following the call of the Comptroller of the Currency and State Superintendent of Banks as of April 6, show a continuation with an increase in deposits during the first quarter of the year. Deposits are increasing in the citrus districts as returns come in from the crops, while a slight reduction is noted in other agricultural areas. A normal demand for money is noted in the country districts in connection with tax payments and planting of crops.

INCREASE IN CROPS

EL CENTRO, May 7.—Increases in the acreage of strawberries and grapefruit in Imperial Valley are indicated by April reports of B. A. Hamer, County Highway Commissioner.

One of the restrictions upon the formation of the new company was a provision limiting the rates chargeable for five years. The result was a succession of deficits from 1918 to 1924, inclusive. During this time the growth of business compelled the company to add $9,059,000 to its plant and equipment account in spite of unsatisfactory earnings.

On top of this situation came the flood and a portion of the time the company had planned for a net expansion in 1920 of 1500 stations, it actually installed 14,000 and then fell far behind the demand. At the expiration of the five-year period, the Railroad Commission granted a partial increase in rates but still the company reported net losses of nearly $2,000,000 in 1922 and over $2,000,000 in 1923.

BAD CHECKS

The following bulletin on bad-check writing was issued yesterday by the forgery detail of the Los Angeles police department detective bureau:

The police forgery detail seeks the assistance of the public in capturing a bad-check artist known as W. Wenninger, O. C. Schoeller and Charles Gottschalk, who has been victimizing local merchants recently. This man is described as follows: German, brown hair, wears mustache, medium build, hazel eyes, 5 feet 10 inches tall, medium dark complexion, weight 165 pounds, about 49 years of age. Occupation, engineer. Wears glasses and is very nervous. Persons having rooms and apartments for rent and advertising their property in local newspapers are the principal victims of this man.

TALKING HABIT CAPITALIZED

Bell Telephone System Receives Large Revenue From Users; Los Angeles Progress Traced

BY EARL E. CROWE

Because American people like to talk, a tremendous business has resulted. Whether it is a virtue or weakness, this habit has been capitalized by the telephone companies into a business owned by more stockholders than any other company in the world. Conversations over the Bell telephone system average approximately 45,000,000 daily, or one for every three persons. Last year from these conversations the Bell companies realized gross revenues of more than $650,000,000 and paid dividends to the partners of over $82,000,000.

It hardly is fair to charge the development of the telephone business in the United States to the gullibility of the people. Telephones are measurably responsible for economic progress in many directions. A service is provided for millions of homes and for every phase of the nation's industry.

Nearly 18,000,000 telephones are supplied by the Bell companies to serve approximately 112,000,000 people.

PROGRESS AIDED

The telephone has made isolation practically an impossible condition in the different sections of the country closer together. Development of the long-distance lines has accelerated business processes in response to the characteristic demand of American business men for more speed. In Europe, there are not as many telephones as in an average-sized American city. Chicago and New York together have more telephones than have four entire continents, including South America, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa. The telephone has invaded countries of India and China, and the ancient land of Egypt.

To provide the telephone service for the people living in the continental United States the Bell system has developed a plant having a book cost of more than $2,225,000,000. Some idea of the magnitude of this investment is gained when it is known that in 1924 alone the net additions to plant were $288,000,000.

The ramifications of the Bell system extend into every important city in the nation. In Los Angeles the telephone service is supplied by the Bell company through the control of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, which in turn controls the Southern California Telephone Company. At the end of 1924, the latter company owned 262,675 Bell lines, and the total capital structure of nearly $44,000,000.

There is a normal production of all varieties of grapes, and the set of walnuts was very heavy and uniform. Planting of beans is under way.

Grain fields have been revived and output will be more normal. Alfalfa production should not exceed last year, but the cotton crop is estimated at 12 per cent greater.

Statistics which reflect the volume of business indicate sustained activity in the Los Angeles basin.

April exceeded March.

The telephone situation in Los Angeles has passed through an interesting development.

Tremendous growth in population since 1919 has overwhelmed the company with demands for more lines. Between 1919 and 1923, the population practically doubled, and the number of telephones increased from 125,000 to 197,400.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Prices Fluctuate

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
NEW YORK, May 7.—Diversion of speculative interest to the stock market restrained the pace of bond trading today and prices fluctuated within rather narrow limits, except in a few isolated cases. A steady demand for high-grade foreign obligations and bonds "legal" and "speculative" issues gave the market a firm underpinning.

Trading was enlivened by a spurt of 3 points in Standard Gas and Electric 6 1/2 per cent bonds, while the synchronous ones which are convertible into which they are convertible. The issue established a new high price for the year at 125 1/8. Other utility issues joined in the upward movement, notably in pace with a rally in the shares.

A group of Japanese government 6 1/2s which rose to 125 1/2 peak price, was accompanied by unconfirmed reports that the American market would open to the Japanese financing. The turnover in this issue amounted to $1,500,000. The activity in this group extended to the Oriental Development and the Great Consolidated.

Railroad of railroad issues was of a more selective character, recent bullish enthusiasm was dampened somewhat by the unfavorable March earnings down in the common bond report of the class one railroads. Seaboard lines forged readily ahead to new high levels for the year, and Chicago and Terre Haute income bonds jumped 2 1/2 points to 100 1/2. Norfolk and Western gained a point.

Supra company bonds strengthened slightly in response to persistent reports of a merger of the industry and indications of more settled price situations, but oil bonds reacted following another series of cuts in gasoline prices in the East and the announcement of another increase in crude production.

Following are yesterday's high, low and closing prices of bonds on the Exchange and the total value of each bond. These quotations are received from dealers in the city. The service is omitted when it is the same as the low value. The figures are omitted when they are the same as the high value.

BY CLAIRE MELANGINO
Anticipating the popular taste in musical apparel is a matter for no little thought; but John Wright, the right tailor, through his semi-monthly calls on Radioland, has become an excellent designer in regard to melodic patterns. The cloth he selected last night was made by the Chico de Verde, Radio Gypsy Trio, Israel Mendelsohn, pianist; Gladys Blackwell Pickering, soprano; Hatch Graham, Uncle Remus and Maggie O'Shea, the Blarney Girl.

The foreign temperament, essentially spirited and outwardly expressive of emotions, pays little attention to so-called self-control. This abundance of fire and unbridled ardor were particularly evident in the performances of the Persian Gypsy Trio. Composed of Chico de Verde, its director and leader; William Pickering, pianist, and Max Terr, cellist, it gave its interpretation with all the color and spirit which its name conveys. French, Russian and Gypsy folk tunes invariably comprise the major part of its program with the result that the audiences receive the native colors.

Gladys O'Shea is properly termed the "Blarney Girl." The infectious spirit of the Emerald Isle rings in her laughter, while the smile of the Blarney stone is in her eyes. When she sings the songs of her native land we all want to dance.

Hatch Graham and Uncle Remus added their stuff with their customary alacrity and showmanship resulting in many laughs from the studio audience.

For their afternoon auditors the Pacific States Electric Company provided the popular and talented Arion Trio and their 16-year-old tenor.

The hour passed rapidly under the skillful fingers of the three ladies comprising the Arion Trio and the delightful tenor voice of Robert L. Feltzhan, who was accompanied by Eddie Archibald.

A feature of the day's activities was the appearance at 7:45 of Annette Kellerman, whose physical attributes are the envy of many of her sisters. In a brief address she spoke of her own personal health, which she illustrated with personal experience. This address was preceded by a talk on "Entertainment," by H. Jenkins.

"Our Faithful" Paul Walter Sylvester Herzog opened the "Children's Hour" with his daily tales of American history, after which followed a long line of talented young voices, including our "Sunny Jane" Hughes, whose juvenile voice is the envy of many. Leola Dolbie, 16-year-old reader; Boyd Whitney Brown, 6-year-old reader; Gloria Workman, 6-year-old reader; Beatrix Marsh, reader; Leon Burton, 12-year-old violinist, who was accompanied by Mrs. H. McMahn, and Betty McKay, 9-year-old pianist.

At the noon hour Bert Crosson's "Musical du Glace" Orchestra and Beryl Burton Culwell, soprano, entertained.

their authority to extort money from Bullock's was launched by Dist.-Atty. Keves yesterday after the county grand jury, grand former sergeant, and
F. F. Schrage and Joseph Ayers, former policemen, made two counts, one of extortion and one of bribery. The investigation is now under way.

MAYBE SHE DOES
When a woman matrises a man to get rid of him it is time to hoist the danger signal.

OLD OR NEW?
Sometimes a woman will go to a ball with an old husband, but she must have a new dress.

WHO CARES?
The looting of the soviet war chest has all the ear marks of being an inside job. Outsiders will consider it an excellent visitation.

HARD TO SHAKE
The seismograph at Washington may register and record earthquakes, but the quakes are not at the capital. It is hard for a shock to get by while Calvin Coolidge is on the job at Washington.

CANNED GOODS
It may also be mentioned that California now tops the country so far as the canning industry is concerned. It is possible to bring a can opener to Los Angeles and live happily ever after. They are even canning music and the drama here.

RELATED JUSTICE
A Carolina Legislature had a bill before it which would make the old bachelors support the old maids, but the measure did not get very far. It sounds like a piece of righteousness, but it seems to be conceded that it would be a fizzle in practical application. The spinsters would not care for any support that lacks the backing of a band of gold about the finger.

DAYS OF RECKONING
Within less than ninety days after he had murdered his victim Tuffy Reid had been arrested, tried, convicted and sentenced to death. Yet two years were suffered to pass before the execution came. This is another reason why criminals feel warranted in carrying on their murderous trade. If they can put off justice long enough there is a possibility of avoiding the penalty.

JAIL DISARMAMENT
While they are putting the world on a peace basis there should at least be a disarmament of the inmates of our prisons and jails. In a recent round-up at one of the institutions the guards assembled enough artillery to start a war. Prisoners do not seem to have much trouble in obtaining saws, files, pistols, bludgeons and other tools of terror. They not only secure them, but they are able to provide places in which they may be secreted against the day of use. Such conditions should not be possible.

THE RACING GAME
By an almost unanimous vote a committee of the Illinois Assembly recommends the passage of the measure which would restore horse racing and pool selling the State. The bill provides for a racing commission and for a license of $5000 a day for race meetings. It is figured that tracks near Chicago, St. Louis and Peoria would furnish about 100 days of racing each year. This would mean something like $500,000 of new revenue for the politicians and is not to be sneezed at. If Illinois is the Sucker State there should be a racing pool in which the suckers can play.

NOT INTERESTED
For what was possibly the most important election in the history of the city there was a massed outpouring of perhaps 30 per cent of all those who would ordinarily be entitled to a vote. About one person in three of the grown-ups is sufficiently interested in the government of his city to visit the polls. Under such circumstances the politicians will furnish the people with such quality of government as they deserve. The citizens excuse themselves on the ground that there are so many elections and the ballots are so vast that they cannot exercise intelligent care. As long as such excuses are offered the politicians will take care of them in their own sweet way.

TOO MUCH TALKER
It is only in the United States Senate that a legislator can indulge himself in unlimited conversation while the business of the nation waits. In the closing days of a session, if a member has the staying qualities and the wind, he may hold the floor for days and absolutely despoil the legislative branch of the government of its powers and duties. Vice-President Dawes points out some of the disasters that are possible through the application of the Senate rules. The possession of the right to practically unlimited debate tends to make a grand-stand performer out of every member. As the years go by the orator speaks on every subject—and possibly at great length—until some people imagine that he either knows all there is to be known on all subjects or is talking to keep himself in his job. In either case the business of the nation is unprofitably held up.

PLAIN AS PRINT
Through the speech of Ambassador Houghton at the Pilgrims' Society dinner in London the attitude of the United States on recent developments in both Germany and France was indicated. Directly the President could say nothing about such events as the election of Gen. Von Hindenburg and the possible corollary, a revival of Chauvinistic sentiment in Germany; but through the Ambassador's lips many believe he has expressed the message that the Europe which hopes for aid from the United States must be a Europe looking toward peace, not war.

Ambassadors' speeches are customarily empty of meaning. "I am happy to be here; we wish you well; two and two are four" is the sort of utterance that was to be expected at such a dinner as that attended by Ambassador Houghton; so that his words must be regarded as something more than a hint.

When the Ambassador declared that international good faith must be re-established before international relations can again function smoothly he was voicing a warning that, whether or not it is needed, cannot be misunderstood in any quarter in Paris, Berlin or Moscow. By inference, he thus voiced the conditions upon which Russia may again be admitted to the fellowship of nations; by inference, he indicated that America expects the Dawes plan to be carried out; by inference, he declared that chicanery and thimblerigging will retard, not hasten, the progress of healing war wounds; by inference, that America expects repayment from Europe of every dollar loaned. All these things and much more are evident requirements of the re-establishment of international good faith.

"The full measure of American helpfulness can be obtained only when the American people are assured that the time for destructive methods and policies has passed and that the time for peaceful up-building has come," continued the Ambassador. "They are asking themselves if that time has, in fact, arrived. And that question cannot today answer. The answer must be given to them. It must come from the peoples of Europe, who alone can make the decision."

The Ambassador had pointed out that the American people had viewed the European situation with sympathy and an understanding born of experience with the aftermath of a destructive war and with the slow subsidence of war-born hatreds. They had loaned to rebuild, to make it possible for the peoples of Europe to resume useful production. The loans were made with the assumption, he said, that those who had suffered so much from war would seek a settlement on conditions that would tend to prevent war's recurrence. And the solemn warning just quoted was a statement that the American people doubt if such a settlement has been either reached or sought. So long as this doubt remains, the Ambassador declared, American aid will be released in dribs and drabs, not floods.

Ambassador Houghton's speech might be summarized as a paraphrase of the speech of another American diplomat: "Billions for construction, not one cent for destruction." The loans were made with the assumption, he said, that those who had suffered so much from war would seek a settlement on conditions that would tend to prevent war's recurrence. And the solemn warning just quoted was a statement that the American people doubt if such a settlement has been either reached or sought. So long as this doubt remains, the Ambassador declared, American aid will be released in dribs and drabs, not floods.

Ambassador Houghton's speech might be summarized as a paraphrase of the speech of another American diplomat: "Billions for construction, not one cent for destruction."

The Ambassador had pointed out that the American people had viewed the European situation with sympathy and an understanding born of experience with the aftermath of a destructive war and with the slow subsidence of war-born hatreds. They had loaned to rebuild, to make it possible for the peoples of Europe to resume useful production. The loans were made with the assumption, he said, that those who had suffered so much from war would seek a settlement on conditions that would tend to prevent war's recurrence. And the solemn warning just quoted was a statement that the American people doubt if such a settlement has been either reached or sought. TRIPLE CROILE

Place in a saucpan six level tablespoons of butter and add one peeled and sliced onion and two cloves of garlic. Cook slowly until the onion and garlic are soft, not brown; add one No. 24 can of tomatoes, four sliced pimientos, one chopped clove of garlic, and a dash of salt and pepper and, if liked, one can of French mushrooms, pieces and stems cut in thin slices. Cover and simmer for one hour, add two tablespoons of boiled tripe and simmer about twenty minutes to the pound. Mix two cupfuls of fine dried bread crumbs with one and a half cupfuls of sifted brown sugar. Place the ham in a baking pan, the onions and pimientos on top, remove the ham and place in the fat the mixed bread crumb and sugar, stick around the fat whole cloves, add one cupful of cider to the pan and bake in a moderate oven until the crumbs are nicely browned.

RUSSIAN DRESSING

Mix in a cold bowl, rubbed with a cloth, one cupful of mayonnaise dressing, two tablespoons of French dressing, one tablespoonful of chopped pimientos, one tablespoonful of chopped onions, pieces and stems,三十 minutes. Pour into a deep hot platter and mound boiled rice around the edge.

COCONUT CREAM PUFFS

Mix in the top of a double boiler half a cupful of sifted sugar, half a cupful of sifted flour and a few grains of salt; add two eggs and milk and stir and cook over a slow fire fifteen minutes; add two slightly beaten egg yolks and half a cupful of grated cocoanut and half a cupful of cream and cook until the mixture is thick. Do not boil. Remove from the fire, stir in one tablespoonful of orange juice and one teaspoonful of lemon juice. Cool and fill baked cases with finely chopped almonds and bake in a moderate oven.

THE WANDERING HUSBAND

Dead love, pride, freedom, duty, give us the climax of a generative achievement. The building fund, so materialistic, is clubbed to the musical team. The musical team, fundamentally for the creation of a stimulus for writing, is the chief driving force in the club, bringing the touch of friendliness while at the regular meetings. It is an impossible dream to have these two, two of these being at University of California, in Los Angeles and Mills College in Boston. During and after World War Prof. Markovits was a principle figure in the work by the King of Denmark.

He is the founder of a publishing house in Prague. In its kind in the world, in the publication of artistic books. He gave his services since coming to America, two of these being at University of California, in Los Angeles and Mills College in Boston.

He is the author of "The Wandering Husband," the most popular book ever written on the subject of the wandering husband.

"He writes me a quite bearable letter when he went away, saying he was sick of me, sick of the daily grind. I secured work, and found myself well able to undertake the support of my children. A great peace and content reigns in our little home since that father went his way."

MOVE TO QUASH MURDER CHARGE

Defense Attorneys Appear in Camp Case

Court at Hanford to Rule Monday Morning

Grand Jury Indictment Styled Monumental Ignorance

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

HANFORD, May 7.—The Lee Camp murder case, in which Jessie Laura Brown, foster-mother of the wealthy young rancher, and three men are charged with the young man's murder, was again in the Superior Court today. The defense for the four defendants joined in an endeavor to quash the indictments against all of the accused, and asked that the indictments not be quashed their clients be admitted to bail. John E. Tipton, uncle of Mrs. Brown and Fred Mills were the only defendants in court. Defendants were presented in which Mobley L. Cronin, attorney of San Francisco, and Harry Field, an attorney for an insurance company, in violation of law, went with the grand jury to the Brown's residence, where Camp met his death; that he was killed by his own hand. Tipton, one of the accused men, and said to be the last man to see Camp alive, and the first to see him when he was fatally injured; that he violently quarreled with Tipton and attempted to traduce him to physical combat.

An affidavit by the San Francisco attorney of Tipton, V. W. Hallinan, makes allegations the same as the other defendant, except that the presence of Cronin as well as Field at the grand jury investigation at the Brown ranch are said to have been illegal. Tipton testified to corroborate the statements made by the defense.

Hallinan characterized the grand jury report of testimony taken in the case as "monumental malice and monumental ignorance." He related that in the McClelland case, a Chinese cook had received Mrs. Shepherd on her own recognition to raise $5000 bail and declared there is no more evidence of the guilt of the defendants in the Camp case.

Dale A. McKay objected to bail being granted, and the court ruled that the matter of bail would be passed upon next Monday at 11 a.m., at which time he also postponed consideration of quashing the indictments.

Attorneys Brown and Prior of this city were entered as attorneys with those from San Francisco in the case. Mrs. Brown and her son and Robert McMichael are still sick in a hospital under guard, but are reported to be recovering.

Send Crews to Orchards for Golden Harvest

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)

ORANGE, May 7.—The 1925 Valencia orange season not officially under way today when four packing plants affiliated with the Orange County Fruit Exchange dispatched crews into the fields to begin the annual harvest.

As a result hundreds of persons will be given employment, materially boosting business conditions throughout the district. Fresh until the holding of the golden fruit will begin a steady march to the eastern markets.

The four packing plants which commence picking operations tomorrow are the Valencia Orange Growers' Association, the city, the Villa Park orchards, at Villa Park; the Tustin Hills citrus at Tustin, and the Garden Grove Citrus Association, at Garden Grove.

Local officials reported, will probably begin packing within the next few days. As customary at the outset, the packing plants operate slowly, increasing their working forces as the season advances.

ETERNAL FEMININE

Alhambra Girls Anxious to Run City Government

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)

ALHAMBRA, May 7.—Having made a little investigation of their own in connection with the Boys' Week activities, centered mainly in Alhambra on the day last week when the youths took over the operation of the city government, the girls of the high school have come to the conclusion that they could run the city's affairs better than the boys. Their estimation of Boys' Week is that "it's the bunk," and that the girls expressed desire to have the inauguration of a national girls' week when they may have the chance to put their theories into practice.

From the City Manager down to the policemen on the beat girls are more capable of filling the jobs than are the boys, says Grace Rogers, one of the leaders among the girls at the high school. Girls, she claims, have more brain power, and could more efficiently perform executive duties. In airing her views on girls as police officers, she says that their natural curiosity and innocence in girls would result in the speedy apprehension of criminals.

IS STATE DELEGATE

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

BOY BANDIT GONE FROM JAIL CELL

Youth Makes Escape After Prying Bolts from Bars at Window

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)

GLENDALE, May 7.—Ripping three bolts from the window of his cell in Fire Station No. 2, on Los Feliz Road, Willie Clark, aged 17, of 545 Park avenue, last night gained his freedom and has disappeared, the police having failed so far to pick up any trace of the fugitive.

Clark and his brother Elmer, aged 15, had been arrested on a charge of stealing candy and gum from a store on San Fernando Road and been held in the cell at the fire station because of the regulation that forbids the incarceration of juveniles in the same cells as adult prisoners. Elmer was not present when the older brother was held for a hearing before Judge F. H. Lowe. When the officer went to the cell this morning it was empty, and examination showed that three bolts had been withdrawn from the window and that the cell door had been pried open.

A search for the boy has failed to turn him up. Neighborhood Chief of Police J. D. Peeler declared that this and similar incidents in the past show the need for proper jail accommodations in Glendale.

Bakersfield to Stage Welcome for Shortridge

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

BAKERSFIELD, May 7.—Explanatory plans for the reception of Senator Samuel M. Shortridge, who will be the guest of Bakersfield citizens tomorrow, are being completed by the committee which Chairman Arthur S. Crites has appointed.

Senator Shortridge will be honored at a public reception and banquet at the new Masonic Temple tomorrow.

The Senator is en route to his home in San Mateo following a visit in San Diego, and was prevailed upon to stop in Bakersfield tomorrow by Chairman Crites.

AGE NO HANDICAP

Elderly Visitor to Crown City Climbs Mt. Wilson

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, May 7.—Just to himself out, Frederick C. Bradley, 89 years of age, eastern tourist, has, during the last few days, climbed to the summit of Mt. Wilson and returned to the base, establishing what is believed to be a world's record for a man of his age.

On Monday Mr. Bradley climbed from Altadena to the Mt. Wilson Hotel a distance of nine miles in four hours and sixteen minutes.

His time for the Tuesday trip was considerably better. This time he walked the same distance in three hours and eight minutes. The Wednesday trip was also made in less than four hours' time. On each trip Mr. Bradley took two hours and twenty minutes each time.

Mr. Bradley comes here from Pine Orchard, Cl. Although he has not been here since he was in his twenty-first winter in Southern California, he is now staying at the Maresca Hotel.

SHORT LETTUCE CROP

Shipments Fall to Come Up to Early Predictions

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)

EL CENTRO, May 7.—Only eleven more carloads of lettuce were shipped from Imperial Valley this year than were sent last season.

The final report of the transportation companies shows a total of 9851 carloads.

It was predicted at the opening of the lettuce season that 10,000 carloads would be sent to market more than 10,000 carloads.

The lettuce yield was not as heavy this year as it was in 1924, due partly to cold weather, previous to the time of shipping.

The total crop for 1924 was 720 acres more than in 1924.

Although the late crop was not found profitable, the season is believed to have been generally a profitable one for both growers and shippers.

MILLIONAIRE MISSING

Rich Young Man Falls to Come Into Court

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SANTA BARBARA, May 7.—The Sheriff's office is today searching for F. W. Matthiessen, third son of the millionaire Ventura county sportsman and rancher, on a charge of illegal possession and transportation of liquor. Matthiessen was apprehended last night while leaving a suspected cache near Carpinteria, but the deputy sheriff who arrested him after seizing a small quantity of liquor upon the understanding that he would appear in court this morning, claimed he had been held incommunicado and was being held without trial.

He asked that no action be taken against him until after reorganization and some one had been prepared to serve as Rhodes now does.

SENATOR CREIGHTON, State Senator, Dies Suddenly

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

LANGERSHIM, May 7.—George Williamson, local contractor, today stated he was as busy as the proverbial cranberry merchant getting the San Fernando Valley Shrine parade lined up.

Williamson's job is to command 500 volunteers in time to be in Hollywood on June 3 to 2000 or 2000 visiting Shriners through San Fernando Valley. June 2 is Hollywood and Lankershim Avenue.

He is chairman of the committee which is in charge of the Shrine's participation in the Universal Studios.

MAN RECEIVES WORD OF HIS OWN DEATH

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE)

RAWLEY, May 7.—H. O. Hogue has indignantly denied that he committed suicide in San Francisco, where a man who has taken his own life was found in possession of a metal tag furnished by an insurance company and bearing the number 89,070.

San Francisco police said the company, the number of the tag

Hogue was finally advised of his death. Hogue asserts that his insurance policy was burned in a fire at a seedy hotel a week ago and his metal tag, however, was not.

The dance pavilion was free to the visitors on the afternoon of that day and there will be many special concessions for the picnickers.
